You people have to realize that sometimes people like that "chainsaw" sound. At least Dan Torres had the balls to put his ideas out and make something out of his dreams. I may not agree with every Dan says, but I respect him for throwing his balls up on the table and taking a risk.

P.S. Don't touch that Vibroverb! Use a damn pedal. Someday you may want to have her back the way she was...

This is coming from a guy who sends his amps out to be modded then tries to destroy a reputable business because he didn't like the sound. Your opinions mean nothing here.

That always cracks me up when I see that spelling. Takes all the fire and brimstone out, and makes it look like a drag queen stripper.
